

The crowd thronging out at the finish.

The end of a thrilling race

The first jumping race at Laurel this season

Harry P. Whitney's two-year-old, which won the open race at Laurel this fall, Jockey Frank Keough up

Photos by
Harris & Ewing

Jockey Lawrence Lyle, one of the best known riders at Laurel.

The finish of the Capital handicap—a worthy end of a hard fought race.

Harry P. Whitney's famous two-year-old, Rialto—considered one of the best horses of his class on the tracks this year.

Excels, ridden by Jockey Lyle, who won the Capital handicap.

